EDGED TO LIGHTS

MERCIAL CLUB WILL WORK AS UNIT FOR THE CONTRACT

S MANY ADVANTAGES

tems Express Approval of Terms roposed and of Tax Levy to Cover Cost.—Enthusiastic Meeting.

What the Contract Provides.

That not more than $5,646.50 yearly ay be raised by tax levy.
That the minimum sum that may be xpended yearly for light may be 3,600.
That a curtailment of light may be ade at any time when it may be shown dvisable.
That additional lights may be added s the needs of the city require.
That in event the maximum sum yearly is not required that the tax levy may be reduced in proportion.
That with every decline of 25 cents per ton on coal purchased by the light company, a proportionate reduction in the cost of light is made to the city.
It provides for a tax levy of 25 cents on each $100 assessed valuation.

The Commercial Club, at its regular meeting last night when nearly one hundred members were present, unanimously decided that Maryville could not afford to do without lights and every member present pledged himself to work for the adoption of the contract with the light company at the special election to be held next Wednesday, Oct. 9. The action was taken following a discussion of the terms of the contract, its reasonableness and fairness being shown beyond question.

In order to secure the necessary two thirds vote to carry the proposition every member enlisted for service prior to the election and at the polls on election day to inform voters and to show the necessity for voting the special tax. It is likely that announcement of ward meetings in a campaign of information will be announced today or tomorrow with committees and speakers named by President George Robb Ellison.

The discussion of the light question followed a dinner in the basement restaurant at Behm's cafe with a large majority of the members of the club present together with others who are interested in the welfare of the city. The terms of the contract with the light company were explained in detail by President Ellison who pointed out the advantages it offered and that only such tax levy as would be necessary to produce the sum required to pay for the lights might be authorized.

Called on for an opinion in the matter, W. C. Pierce said there was no question but what the city must be lighted and that the lights must be paid for. He approved the special taxation plan as fair to all and with the small amount it would add to each individual's taxes, declared it should carry without a dissenting vote.

President Ira Richardson, of the Normal, when called on for an expression said that as that institution was attended by young men and young women from nineteen different counties in this section of the state, the city could ill afford to permit it's streets to remain unlighted. He pointed out that the Normal having organized a Student Army Training Corps under Westlawn Farm Changed Hands Yesterday.—Harold Bellows to Partnership in Chicago Concern.

A deal whereby Westlawn farm, the 360 acre tract southwest of the city owned by Mrs. George P. Bellows and her son, Harold H. Bellows, was sold to C. D. Bellows and sons, was consummated yesterday. The entire farm, together with all equipments, the big herd of fine Shorthorn cattle and all other stock, was sold and the new owners will operate it along with their other stock farms under the name of Bellows & Sons, continuing their business operations as in past years.

The first of November H. H. Bellows will enter into partnership with the Bellow-Reaves Book Publishing Co., of Chicago and his family will take up their residence in that city. The senior member of the firm, Edwin Bellows, is an uncle of H. H. Bellows and he established the Chicago publishing house a number of years ago.

Mrs. George P. Bellows and her mother, Mrs. M. J. Honnold, who make their home in this city, have no intention of changing their residence, but will make Maryville their permanent home. The move makes a big commercial change for the two firms and will also take from Maryville one of the most prominent families, whose departure will be regretted in both business and social ways. Mrs. G. P. Bellows is director of women's work for the Nodaway County Red Cross chapter.

BEHIND ON THE LOAN

FULLY 50 PER CENT SHORT TREASURY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES

PURCHASE EARLY, URGED

Good News From Abroad and Epidemic of Influenza Has Served to Slacken the Campaign.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The slowing up of Liberty Loan subscriptions due probably to encouraging news from abroad has put the country fully fifty per cent behind on the Fourth loan, the treasury department announced today.

Next Monday morning 400 solicitors will start on a canvass of Nodaway county in the drive to raise this county's quota of a million and a quarter dollars. County Chairman W. C. Pierce said today that he had visited every town in the county the past week distributing supplies to the various township committees and without exception the fullest confidence was expressed that the entire amount would be subscribed. "We can't afford not to, we've just got to do it, that's all," was the sentiment expressed by the chaiman of every committee.

Volunteer subscriptions to the loan have been numerous, but not what they should be but with two days remaining before actual solicitation begins the number may show a big increase before Monday.

Admonition to the American people not to let the news of Allied victories cause a slackening of efforts in the campaign for the loan was expressed last night by Secretary McAdoo in pointing out that to date subscriptions toward the total are being received at only about one-half the necessary rate.

"While I am confident that the American people will in the end complete the enormous task before them," Mr. McAdoo said, "I desire to urge everyone not only to subscribe at the earliest possible moment in order that his subscription may serve as an inspiration to others. The campaign is handicapped by two factors, the first being the unfortunate spread of influenza throughout many of the Eastern states, necessitating the cancellation of public meetings, parades and other demonstrations in behalf of the loan. This condition makes it necessary for the people to come forward with their subscriptions without waiting to be called upon. The escond unfavorable factor and by far the most serious one, is the feeling which is prevalent in some communities that the glorious news from the battle fronts reflects a situation which warrants a slackening of our efforts here at home. Nothing could be further from the truth, and no more insidious propaganda than this could be circulated by the enemy."

Torpedo Sunk—53 Missing.

London, Oct. 4.—A British torpedo boat was sunk in a collision with a mer chantman, the admiralty announced today. Fifty-three men are reported missing.

THE LIGHT CONTRACT

So many misstatements have been made about the provisions of the proposed contract between the City of Maryville and the Maryville Electric Light & Power Company, which will be voted on at the special election on Oct. 9th, that a public statement regarding the essential provisions of the contract ought to be made. This is especially true because the Board of Aldermen have felt the city would not be justified in going to the expense of publishing the contract in full in the newspapers. Several copies of the contract are to be pasted up in the store windows in different stores about the business section of town in order that those who desire may read the contract in full, but to those who have not the time or opportunity to examine it personally, the following facts will be of interest.

The contract provides for one hundred and seventy 100 candle power lamps and twenty 60 candle power lamps in the residence section of town. At the present time there are one hundred and sixty-three 100 candle power lamps and fourteen 60 candle power lamps in use. In other words the contract provides for seven 100 candle power lamps and six 60 candle power lamps more than are now in service. This was done because the Board of Aldermen wanted to provide for any extension of the lighting system that might prove to be necessary in the next five years. It is not the intention to increase the number of lights in use unless conditions after the war call for such extension.

The contract provides that the contract price for the 100 candle power lamps is $1.43¾ per month, or $17.25 per year. The contract price for the 60 candle power lamps is 95 5-6 cents per month, or $11.50 per year. All these lights in the residence section operate on a moonlight schedule—that is from early dusk to daylight each night except when the moon is shining through a clear sky.

In addition to the lights in the residence section, the contract provides for the lighting of the WHITE WAY SYSTEM. There are 72 White Way poles. The contract price for these is $2.87½ per month or $34.50 per year. At this price the four lower lights on each White Way post are to burn from early dusk until 11:00 each night and the top light on each post is to burn from early dusk to daylight every night.

Some criticism has been made of the contract by persons who think the four lower lights ought not to be lighted at the present time, in view of war conditions. These persons evidently are under the impression that the con-

IN CHAMPAGNE A GREAT HUN POSITION WAS TAKEN IN STORM ATTACK FROM VETERANS

FREANCH DRIVE AHEAD

During the Night Big Advances Were Made in St. Quentin Sector and North of Rheims.

Paris, Oct. 4.—Americas and French that are attacking in the Champagne district have enlarged their gains north east of Mont Blanc and in the sector of Medeah Arm.

London, Oct. 4.—Local fighting, which resulted to the advantage of the British flamed up in the southern outskirts of Cambrai during the night. The British also had the best of it in the fighting southwest of Beaurevoir. The new British line is now less than seven miles from the great German base at Lille. Fresh progress was made by the British northeast of Epheny and north of the Scarpe and the railway east of Lens has been reached.

With the Americans Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 4.—Americans in Argonne forest are constantly advancing night and day but progress has been unnecessarily slow owing to the difficult terrain.

Attacking in conjunction with the French the Americans plunged northward along the Somme-Py-Attigny highway capturing the great German position on the Monthanc which dominates the surrounding country. An advance of several miles was made in a northerly and northwesterly direction and progress still continues. Thus another "impregnable" position, defended by veterans of four years war experience was carried by young troops of Americans. The Americans are now driving forward on both sides of Argonne forest.

London, Oct. 4.—Pouring through the great gap in the Hindenburg line on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front the British have reached Fresnoy Le Grand, according to unofficial advices.

Paris, Oct. 4.—During the night the French made a further advance in the St. Quentin district and north and north west of Rheims. Bridgehead positions on the Aisne canal north of Rheims has been improved.

IS IT CAMOUFLAGE?

LONDON HEARS GERMAN ALLIANCE IS BREAKING UP

HER ALLIES MAY QUIT

Kaiser's Appeal for a Recognized "People's Government" Is Regarded as Pure Buncombe.

London, Oct. 4.—The press association which is understood to be very close to official sources of information understands that there is no doubt that Turkey has notified Germany of her intentions to make a separate peace with the Allies and there are also signs that Persia is taking sides against the Ottoman Empire, the Daily News stated today. There are suggestions that Austria-Hungary will break with Germany and the possibility exists that Hungary may act alone. Signs of the breaking up of German alliances are very encouraging.

London, Oct. 3.—There are indications that the process of wiping out the militaristic and autocratic government of Germany, which President Wilson declared is necessary before peace can be accomplished, already has begun.

While it is not believed that the present crisis in Germany will result in the setting up of anything resembling a democratic government, it is evident from the "buck passing" of those dodging offers of the chancellorship that the kaiser and Hohenzollernism are on the down grade.

The kaiser's recent appeal for a recognized "people's government" and another appeal which he is now issuing but of which no details have yet been received, are regarded as camouflage to fool the German public and the Entente statesmen.

An interesting thing in connection with this is the report from Amsterdam stating that the majority members of the Reichstag have adopted the following program:

Indorsement of the July (1917) peace resolution; restoration of Belgium; declaration of Germany's readiness to join the league of nations; autonomy for Alsace-Lorraine and equal suffrage for Prussia.

THE LIGHT CONTRACT

tract requires these four lower lights on each pole must be kept burning. This is not the fact. The contract expressly provides that the city council may order the four lower lights on each white way post turned off for one or more hours each night in any given month. The contract also specifies what the reduction in the lighting price shall be if these four lower lights are turned off. If the city council should decide that they did not want to use the four lower lights the saving to the city for the 72 White Way poles would be $2.88 per night, or $86.40 per month, of $1,036.80 per year. If the city council should want these four lower lights turned off one or more hours earlier each night the saving would be substantially $260.00 per year for each hour that the service is shortened.

The contract also provides that the number of lights in use in the residence district may be reduced at any time by the Board of Aldermen, the only limit being that the monthly bill for street lighting shall not fall below $300.00 per month, or $3,600.00 per year. There has not been a time in Maryville in the last twenty years when there have not been enough lights in service to cost as much as $3.600.00. It will therefore, be seen that the contract so protects the city as to allow it to drop back to the lighting conditions of twenty years ago if the Board of Aldermen feel war conditions make it necessary to take that backward step.

A Word About Recipes.

The failure of many war recipes is due to our not following the directions carefully. In our effort to cut down expenses we are apt to eliminate the eggs and milk called for and substitute baking-powder and water. This change, together with the presence of wheat substitutes to which we are largely unaccustomed produces dishes which may prejudice the family against the new substitutes. Today in matters of cookery we are striving to save for our allies rather than for our purses, and though proper economy is desirable at all times, the practise of it should not interfere with our patriotic saving or with the adequate nourishment of the family.—Oct. Good Housekeeping.

government supervision, that should it become known that the community was so unprogressive as to refuse to pay for an adequate lighting system difficulty would be had in explaining why the Normal should retain the S. A. T. C. unit.

Rev. Gilbert S. Cox pointed out the relation of the churches to civic progress and urged that Maryville go actively to work in doing some of the things that had been neglected for a long time. "Some people are under the impression that during the war it is a patriotic duty to cut down everywhere possible," said Rev. Cox, "when the fact is we should be doing more now than ever. Our boys over there are looking to us to keep things going and we are not doing our part unless we keep going ahead in civic matters and in our business and religious life."

W. A. Blagg declared that the member who would not work and vote for the adoption of the light contract should be classed with the bunch of tight-wad unprogressives who, a few years ago would not vote a school levy. "This club ought to be a unit in this matter," declared Mr. Blagg. "We hear the people at the churches singing 'Jesus Paid It All' and most of them would like to see the electric light included in the bill, always ready to take a thing if somebody else pays the bill.

A statement by the Rev. C. Emerson Miller that he would speak on the proposition from his pulpit Sunday night in an effort to enlighten his members on the need for carrying the election and the fairness of the contract, brought a round of applause. "I have always made a rule never to speak on any subject with which I am not entirely familiar," said Rev. Miller, "and I have taken the time to go through the contract clause by clause and Mr. Hellmers came to me to explain the figures. I can honestly say I believe that it is a fair and equitable contract and Maryville will do well to approve it.

Announcement will be made tomorrow of such meetings and other details of the campaign in behalf of the adoption of the contract will be announced by President Ellison tomorrow.

FINAL BLOW IN '19

FOCH TO SAVE KNOCKOUT LICK UNTIL NEXT YEAR BELIEF

TO WAIT FOR RESERVES

(By Floyd MacGriff, I. N. S. Staff Cor.)

London, Sept. 7.—(By Mail).—Americans and others who hope or expect to see Field Marshal Foch deliver a knockout blow against Germany before 1919 are doomed to disappointment. That is the belief of persons here in close touch with the military situation. Foch's reserves—his strategic reserves which will be thrown in when the great battle can be won and the German hordes crushed—are still insufficient in numbers for that. In other words, not enough Americans have yet been hardened to battle to give Germany the knockout blow this year.

"But Foch has the Germans on the run," the man in the street may say, "so why not keep slamming away and end the war straight off." True, the Germans are on the run, and truer still that the Allies will keep on hammering. But the German forces are only retreating slowly from sectors where Allied pressure becomes too great. The retreat has not become a rout on any wide front. The German higher command is still fully able to direct such retirements as are made with some degree of skill.

Then what is Foch's evident intention? Observers here believe Foch intends to drive the enemy back to a line where he will have less room to manoeuvre, keep the German forces constantly congested and on the defensive in the north, meanwhile preparing the Allied force for the great blow. All the time the German morale will be depressed as that of the Allied forces is increased. Germans fight well only when they are winning.

What is the German plan? At present the German general staff is endeavoring to meet the wastage of manpower. This is possible only by shortening the line. Thus the line has been shifted back toward the Belgian frontier as Allied pressure gets too strong, and the shortened line yields divisions for the reserve force, which Germany now must maintain at all costs. The reserve is necessary to meet sudden Allied offensives. Also, the Germans are holding up the Allied push as best they may, so that they will have time to prepare proper defensive systems in the rear.

With a modern army there are innumerable fixed establishments, such as ammunition dumps, aerodromes, hospitals, provision and supply depots, billets, etc., behind the lines. To move such a conglomeration of material, especially in face of an attack is no small job. And the job is not made easier when every available man is needed to help stem the assault. As much confusion obtains as if a family with a ten-room house were given thirty minutes in which to clear out, with all chattels, to another abode.

Should the Germans eventually retire to the line of the Meuse a saving would be effected of some forty divisions. But the Allied strength would be increased proportionately.

The German plan seems to be to delay any big retirement as long as possible, or at least until winter weather sets in, when Allied operations will be considerably hampered. And with the halt in fighting due to bad weather the Germans would have time to prepare ground far in the rear for such retreats as they believed inevitable.

A retreat to the Meuse would put the Germans practically on their own frontier. That fact in itself would probably instill some fighting spirit into the German line troops, which seem to need some bucking up tonic, according to documents captured from their own commanders.

LABELING HELPS HOUSEWIFE

Food and Drug Act, by Showing Net Weight of Package Makes for Full Measure in Buying.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—The housewife can see at a glance how much food she is to get for her money when it is in package form and labeled in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food and Drugs Act, say the officials of the Bureau of Chemistry charged with the enforcement of that law. The Federal Food and Drugs Act provides that all food in package form, shipped into interstate or foreign commerce, shall bear on the labels a plain and conspicuous statement of the quantity of the contents of the package in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count.

Federal food inspectors are always on the watch for interstate shipments of food in package form to see that the labels tell the truth with respect to the quantity of food in the packages Sample sof the great variety of foods now put up and sold into interstate commerce in package form are taken by the inspectors. Several samples are taken from each shipment in order that their average weight may be determined. The food in sample packages is carefully weighed or measured. If the packages are found to be short in weight or measure, the party responsible for the shipment may be prosecuted under the criminal section of the law.

The Federal Food and Drugs Act does not apply to foods which are sold and consumed within the state where produced or manufactured. It applies to foods that are shipped from one state to another, or to or from a foreign country, or manufactured or sold within the District of Columbia or a territory. Many states have net weight or measure laws, however, whoch protect the housewife from short weight or measure in package foods produced and sold within the state. The Federal food officials and the state food officials co-operate in the work of enforcing the food laws in order that abuses which cannot be reached under one law may be corrected under the other.

The variety and quantity of foods put up and sold in package form has increased rapidly in recent years. Nearly every kind of food may now be bought in can, box, bottle, basket, case, carton, sack, or other form of package. Canned fruits, vegetables, and meats, have long been on the market and can be obtained at all grocery stores. Other foods regularly sold in large quantity in package form are coffees, teas, spices, flavoring extracts, baking powders, sirups, vinegars, jams, jellies, preserves, flour, olive oil, candy, catsup, bakery products, butter, cheese, breakfast foods, fresh fruits and vegetables and beverages.

AIR FLIGHTS MAY BE FEATURE

Just who will represent Maryville was not determined late this afternoon. The flight here will be in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan in the event the services of the flier may be had.

Chillicothe where an army flier gave exhibitions Wednesday is asking for a return date and it is believed that an order may be had from headquarters giving permission to visit both towns on a return trip.

SCHOOL PUPILS HAVE FAIR

Children of Highland District Hold Annual Agricultural Exhibit and Fair —Will Dedicate Service Flag.

The children of the Highland school, south of the city held their annual fair Monday and it was a very interesting event with many entries and a display of 40 different kinds of agricultural products. The work of the children along the lines which this affair embraces, has been stimulated by the annual displays and the exhibits show some very fine specimens.

The rain prevented the county superintendent and some of the outside patrons from attending. The agricultural display included everything raised and grown on the farm in which the children took a part. They also had a curiosity showing at which specimens of wood, Indian relics, tobacco, rocks, sea weed, coral shells and cactus plants obtained from nine different states. Nina Lee Shockley, a former pupil now living in Washington, sent a large display of fancy work, wheat, oats, moss and shells from her western home.

It had been planned to dedicate the service falg in honor of three young men, former pupils of the school now in military service, but on account of the rain this was postponed until a later day. The soldiers represented on the flag are Dr. Harry Anderson, Frank Popham and Curry Farmer.

The fair is one of the most instructive and enjoyable parts of the school year for the children. Miss Rose Shinabargar is the teacher and has been for several years.

PREVENT INFLUENZA SPREAD

Disease May Be Transmitted Directly or Indirectly—Avoid Crowds and Do Not Sleep in Stuffy Rooms.

Although the epidemic of Spanish influenza now sweeping the east has not extensively broken out in this section of the United States, it is not too early to take precautionary measures to prevent its spread. The chief mode of transmission of the disease is by direct or indirect contact through the use of handkerchiefs, common towels, cups and other contaminated articles, said a Maryville physician today. "Persons wishing to avoid the disease should stay out of crowds, or when that is impossible, should have a clean handkerchief that can be held over the mouth as a mask. Do not sleep in stuffy rooms—permit the windows to be open, allowing plenty of ventilation," said the physician.

WAR WORK

American women nurses are installed eight miles in the rear of the fighting lines "over there." Right here at home many women should learn nursing to take care of the sick or, in emergencies, the wounded. You can learn a great deal by obtaining the "Medical Adviser" a book of 1,000 pages, bound in cloth, containing chapters on First Aid, Bandaging, Anatomy, Hygiene, Sex Problems, Mother and Babe, 200 prescriptions for acute and chronic diseases; profusely illustrated by wood cuts and colored plates. Ask your druggist or send 50c. to Publisher, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

If a woman is nervous or has dizzy spells, suffers from awful pains at regular or irregular intervals she should turn to a tonic made up of herbs, and without alcohol, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Then, for the liver and bowels nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Oakwood, Mo.—"For 35 years Dr. Pierce's Remedies have been my household standby. Several times when I have been worn-out with over-work and the care of my family I have been wonderfully strengthened by taking 'Favorite Prescription,' and I first discovered the value of 'Golden Medical Discovery' when my first baby was six months old. I caught a heavy cold, and then sore mouth developed. The doctors all failed me, and as a last resort I tried the 'Discovery.' I improved from the very start and because it built up my strength so easily I kept on taking it until I had taken six bottles."—Mrs. Emma Clark, Box 135.

What is Real Service?

PERHAPS YOU FEEL THAT WHEN YOU GO TO A STORE AND ARE WAITED ON PROPERLY AND COURTEOUSLY AND GET THE GOODS YOU WANT WITHOUT SUBSTITUTION YOU HAVE RECEIVED SERVICE.

But there are other things beneath the surface in merchandising that mean much more in REAL SERVICE than simply store efficiency. One of these consists in buying right so as to protect the customer against high prices, poor qualities or liability of not getting the goods at all.

Since the war, conditions in the grocery trade have been abnormal—it has taken much care to keep a stock up to anything like a real service-giving condition, and prices have not been stable on anything. The greatest service we have been able to render our customers has been in our ability to buy far enough ahead to be sure of supplying the goods and to be able to keep the prices within reason. That is REAL SERVICE.

Quality comes first, but in many instances we have been able to buy goods that are first grade but priced so that we can sell them a little below other brands. Among this class of goods we now have some excellent brands of—

CANNED FRUITS	MINCE MEAT
JAMS AND JELLIES	SORGHUM AND MOLASSES
EVAPORATED MILK	LUNCH GOODS
CANNED VEGETABLES	DRIED FRUITS

We have been especially fortunate in our buying and for that reason we are completely stocked in this line and are able to sell at prices as low as any dealer in the larger cities, and in many cases below the present market.

in Crockery and Glassware

Our Open Stock Dinnerware Patterns are complete and now is a good time to buy. These goods have taken a big advance and you will do well to take advantage of our early buying prices.

Holiday Goods

are coming in and we have a very good line this year at reasonable prices. Holiday buying will begin very early this year and you should make purchases while the lines are complete.

It Solves The Farm Help Problem

The filling of silos, shredding fodder, sawing wood, grinding feed and dragging the roads are among the many jobs which the users are placing their Moline Universal Tractors at this season of the year. You should get one of these tractors and become thoroughly acquainted before the spring work begins. If you drive a Ford car, a Gardner carburetor is the only carburetor for easy starting of motor and economical use of gasoline.

We also have the Standard Four Tire Service Station established with us and you should acquaint yourself with these tires and tubes if you use a car.

A FAIR PRICE LIST

NO LOCAL LIST IS GIVEN

Committee Named Some Two Months Ago Has Failed so Far, to Announce for Buyers Here.

In nearly every newspaper in the country the houeswife will find a Fair Price List.

This list shows what fods are most plentiful in the local markets each day and also gives fair prices for them.

These prices are determined by local committees representing wholesale dealers, retailers, and consumers. They aim to give the dealer a fair profit and at the same time to guard the housewife from being exploited.

But these Fair Price Lists are a club without a handle unless the house wife uses them as she should.

To do this, she should clip the Fair Price List as printed in her paper each day and take it to market with her. Then, if she is charged prices in excess of those quoted on the list she should immediately bring this fact to the attention of her dealer. If he refuses to sell at the prices quoted, the housewife should at once report him to her City Food Administrator if there is one or to her County Food Administrator. He will take such action as seems to fit the case.

So much the Fair Price List can do, if rightly handled by the housewife. But there is another side to it. With the Fair Price List there is no excuse for the housewife to wait until the end of the month and her bills begin to come in, and then complain because her grocery account is higher than she thinks it ought to be.

The only time she has a right to object is the day her dealer asks her a higher price for a certain food commodity than the price at which it is listed in the Fair Price List quoted for that day.

She has no right to complain just because her grocery bill is higher than in pre-war time. Food is bound to cost more. Labor is scarce, transportation is difficult. The higher cost of food is part of the war burden that must be cheerfully borne by every housewife.

Let the American housewife who complains over prices in America compare them with those in other countries:

The only time we have a right to complain in America is when we are charged prices in excess of those quoted in the Fair Price List.

A Fair Price committee for Nodaway county was named over two months ago at a meeting of dealers held at the court house, but up to date no list has been given out by them as to relative prices that should obtain for staple foodstuffs.

In Clarinda, Ia., and in other Iowa towns whose papers come to the Democrat-Forum office may be found in nearly every issue a Fair Price List covering a wide range of commodities. The list gives the wholesale and retail prices and shoppers are urged to report overcharges to the food administrator. The last week's list from a Clarinda, Ia., paper gives fair prices on forty-one different articles of food.

STRENGTHENS KIDNEYS— PURIFIES BLOOD

You can't expect weak kidneys to keep up under the terrific strain of nature's effort to filter the acids and poisons out of the system unless they are given a little help. Don't allow your kidneys, the most overworked organs of your body, to become diseased when a little attention now will prevent it. Don't try to cheat nature. It can't be done.

As soon as you commence to have backache, feel nervous, tired or worn out without cause, GET BUSY. These are usually warnings that your kidneys are not working properly and throwing off the poisons as they should.

Do not delay a minute. Go after the cause of your ailments or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease. NORMAL PUPILS 'WALK-OUT'

Annual Frolic Held on Last Day of Grace for Student Army Training Corps.

The lure of the woods in October lured so keenly that is called the students of the Normal to the annual "Walk Out" today. The word went around yesterday and all the faculty saw of their student body this morning was a committee who came to invite the entire faculty out to lunch at the old gathering place north of the city.

Tomorrow all the young men students in the army training corps enter military service and took advantage of the last day of grace to frolic as school students.

MRS. CHAS PEDEN GAINS 27 POUNDS

Twice Examined and Each Time Operation Was Only Hope.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and have gained twenty-seven pounds," was the truly remarkable statement made by Mrs. Chas. Peden, residing at 550 Mill street, Huntsville, Ala. Mrs. Peden is one of the best known and highly respected women of that thriving little city, where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight pounds, now I weigh 125 pounds and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was twice examined and each time I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around.

"I had no appetite at all scarcely, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach, which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When the spells came on I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little.

"I had fallen off until I was almost skin and bones and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and the knife. I had a perfect horror of an operation, but I had made up my mind that it was either life or death and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her good bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and plead with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for a while. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said and I had heard so much about Tanlac I decided to try it as a last resort and stopped at Gilbert's Drug store and bought a bottle. Of course I had lost heart and had no faith in the medicine, but to please my sister I made up my mind to take it and oh, what a happy day that was for me!

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect and in a few days I had no pain at all. I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac, and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel like I have been made all over again into a new woman.

"As I have said before, I now weigh 125 pounds, and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes are big enough for me. I will have to make them all over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even gone back to my coffee which I was told not to touch. Those terrible pains in my back and head have all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous and when I get up mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my household duties and I feel as if I had started life all over again. My husband is highly delighted, and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody.

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may, if you will, tell other women suffering as I was, to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them all about my case."

The Value of Advertising.

Says John Wanamaker: "If there is one business on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising, one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—considerable of it. Somebody should tell him also that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditures early in the game. Advertising doesn't jerk, it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year., until it exerts an irresistible power. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge the load! while one-half the power exerted in steady effort will start and keep it moving. There are three ways to make advertising pay, and these are the only ways. There are no others. First is to keep at at; second, is to keep at it; third is to keep at it."

zens Express Approval of Terms roposed and of Tax Levy to Cover Cost.—Enthusiastic Meeting.

What the Contract Provides.

That not more than $5,646.50 yearly ay be raised by tax levy.

That the minimum sum that may be xpended yearly for light may be 3,600.

That a curtailment of light may be ade at any time when it may be shown dvisable.

That additional lights may be added s the needs of the city require.

That ... event the maximum sum yearly is not required that the tax levy may be reduced in proportion.

That with every decline of 25 cents per ton on coal purchased by the light company, a proportionate reduction in the cost of light is made to the city.

It provides for a tax levy of 25 cents on each $100 assessed valuation.

The Commercial Club, at its regular meeting last night when nearly one hundred members were present, unanimously decided that Maryville could ot afford to do without lights and every member present pledged himelf to work for the adoption of the ontract with the light company at he special election to be held next Wednesday, Oct. 9. The action was taken following a discussion of the terms of he contract, its reasonableness and fairness being shown beyond question.

In order to secure the necessary two thirds vote to carry the proposition every member enlisted for service prior to the election and at the polls on election day to inform voters and to show the necessity for voting the special tax. It is likely that announcement of ward meetings in a campaign of information will be announced today or tomorrow with committees and speakers named by President George Robb Ellison.

The discussion of the light question followed a dinner in the basement restaurant at Behm's cafe with a large majority of the members of the club present together with others who are interested in the welfare of the city. The terms of the contract with the light company were explained in detail by President Ellison who pointed out the advantages it offered and that only such tax levy as would be necessary to produce the sum required to pay for the lights might be authorized.

Called on for an opinion in the matter, W. C. Pierce said there was no question but what the city must be lighted and that the lights must be paid for. He approved the special taxation plan as fair to all and with the small amount it would add to each individual's taxes, declared it should carry without a dissenting vote.

President Ira Richardson, of the Normal, when called on for an expression said that as that institution was attended by young men and young women from nineteen different counties in this section of the state, the city could ill afford to permit it's streets to remain unlighted. He pointed out that the Normal having organized a Student Army Training Corps under

Westlawn Farm Changed Hands Yesterday.—Harold Bellows to Partnership in Chicago Concern.

A deal whereby Westlawn farm, the 360 acre tract southwest of the city owned by Mrs. George P. Bellows and her son, Harold H. Bellows, was sold to C. D. Bellows and sons, was consummated yesterday. The entire farm, together with all equipments, the big herd of fine Shorthorn cattle and all other stock, was sold and the new owners will operate it along with their other stock farms under the name of Bellows & Sons, continuing their business operations as in past years.

Mrs. George P. Bellows and her mother, Mrs. M. J. Honnold, who make their home in this city, have no intention of changing their residence, but will make Maryville their permanent home. The move makes a big commercial change for the two firms and will also take from Maryville one of the most prominent families, whose departure will be regretted in both business and social ways. Mrs. G. P. Bellows is director of women's work for the Nodaway County Red Cross chapter.

BEHIND ON THE LOAN

FULLY 50 PER CENT SHORT TREASURY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES

PURCHASE EARLY, URGED

Washington, Oct. 4.—The slowing up of Liberty Loan subscriptions due probably to encouraging news from abroad has put the country fully fifty per cent behind on the Fourth loan, the treasury department announced today.

Next Monday morning 400 solicitors will start on a canvass of Nodaway county in the drive to raise this county's quota of a million and a quarter dollars. County Chairman W. C. Pierce said today that he had visited every town in the county the past week distributing supplies to the various township committees and without exception the fullest confidence was expressed that the entire amount would be subscribed. "We can't afford not to, we've just got to do it, that's all," was the sentiment expressed by the chaiman of every committee.

Volunteer subscriptions to the loan have been numerous, but not what they should be but with two days remaining before actual solicitation begins the number may show a big increase before Monday.

Admonition to the American people not to let the news of Allied victories cause a slackening of efforts in the campaign for the loan was expressed last night by Secretary McAdoo in pointing out that to date subscriptions toward the total are being received at only about one-half the necessary rate.

"While I am confident that the American people will in the end complete the enormous task before them," Mr. McAdoo said, "I desire to urge everyone not only to subscribe at the earliest possible moment in order that his subscription may serve as an inspiration to others. The campaign is handicapped by two factors, the first being the unfortunate spread of influenza throughout many of the Eastern states, necessitating the cancellation of public meetings, parades and other demonstrations in behalf of the loan. This condition makes it necessary for the people to come forward with their subscriptions without waiting to be called upon. The escond unfavorable factor and by far the most serious one, is the feeling which is prevalent in some communities that the glorious news from the battle fronts reflects a situation which warrants a slackening of our efforts here at home. Nothing could be further from the truth, and no more insidious propaganda than this could be circulated by the enemy."

Torpedo Sunk—53 Missing.

London, Oct. 4.—A British torpedo boat was sunk in a collision with a merchantman, the admiralty announced today. Fifty-three men are reported missing.

THE LIGHT CONTRACT

So many misstatements have been made about the provisions of the proposed contract between the City of Maryville and the Maryville Electric Light & Power Company, which will be voted on at the special election on Oct. 9th, that a public statement regarding the essential provisions of the contract ought to be made. This is especially true because the Board of Aldermen have felt the city would not be justified in going to the expense of publishing the contract in full in the newspapers. Several copies of the contract are to be pasted up in the store windows in different stores about the business section of town in order that those who desire may read the contract in full, but to those who have not the time or opportunity to examine it personally, the following facts will be of interest.

The contract provides for one hundred and seventy 100 candle power lamps and twenty 60 candle power lamps in the residence section of town. At the present time there are one hundred and sixty-three 100 candle power lamps and fourteen 60 candle power lamps in use. In other words the contract provides for seven 100 candle power lamps and six 60 candle power lamps more than are now in service. This was done because the Board of Aldermen wanted to provide for any extension of the lighting system that might prove to be necessary in the next five years. It is not the intention to increase the number of lights in use unless conditions after the war call for such extension.

The contract provides that the contract price for the 100 candle power lamps is $1.43¾ per month, or $17.25 per year. The contract price for the 60 candle power lamps is 95 5-6 cents per month, or $11.50 per year. All these lights in the residence section operate on a moonlight schedule—that is from early dusk to daylight each night except when the moon is shining through a clear sky.

In addition to the lights in the residence section, the contract provides for the lighting of the WHITE WAY SYSTEM. There are 72 White Way poles. The contract price for these is $2.87½ per month or $34.50 per year. At this price the four lower lights on each White Way post are to burn from early dusk until 11:00 each night and the top light on each post is to burn from early dusk to daylight every night.

Some criticism has been made of the contract by persons who think the four lower lights ought not to be lighted at the present time, in view of war conditions. These persons evidently are under the impression that the con-

YANKS SMASHING ON

FRENCH DRIVE AHEAD

Paris, Oct. 4.—Americas and French that are attacking in the Champagne district have enlarged their gains north east of Mont Blanc and in the sector of Medeah Arm.

London, Oct. 4.—Local fighting, which resulted to the advantage of the British flamed up in the southern outskirts of Cambrai during the night. The British also had the best of it in the fighting southwest of Beaurevoir. The new British line is now less than seven miles from the great German base at Lille. Fresh progress was made by the British northeast of Epheny and north of the Scarpe and the railway east of Lens has been reached.

With the Americans Northwest of Verdun, Oct. 4.—Americans in Argonne forest are constantly advancing night and day but progress has been unnecessarily slow owing to the difficult terrain.

Attacking in conjunction with the French the Americans plunged northward along the Somme-Py-Attigny highway capturing the great German position on the Monthanc which dominates the surrounding country. An advance of several miles was made in a northerly and northwesterly direction and progress still continues. Thus another "impregnable" position, defended by veterans of four years war experience was carried by young troops of Americans. The Americans are now driving forward on both sides of Argonne forest.

London, Oct. 4.—Pouring through the great gap in the Hindenburg line on the Cambrai-St. Quentin front the British have reached Fresnoy Le Grand, according to unofficial advices.

Paris, Oct. 4.—During the night the French made a further advance in the St. Quentin district and north and north west of Rheims. Bridgehead positions on the Aisne canal north of Rheims has been improved.

IS IT CAMOUFLAGE?

Kaiser's Appeal for a Recognized "People's Government" Is Regarded as Pure Buncombe.

London, Oct. 4.—The press association which is understood to be very close to official sources of information understands that there is no doubt that Turkey has notified Germany of her intentions to make a separate peace with the Allies and there are also signs that Persia is taking sides against the Ottoman Empire, the Daily News stated today. There are suggestions that Austria-Hungary will break with Germany and the possibility exists that Hungary may act alone. Signs of the breaking up of German alliances are very encouraging.

London, Oct. 3.—There are indications that the process of wiping out the militaristic and autocratic government of Germany, which President Wilson declared is necessary before peace can be accomplished, already has begun.

While it is not believed that the present crisis in Germany will result in the setting up of anything resembling a democratic government, it is evident from the "buck passing" of those dodging offers of the chancellorship that the kaiser and Hohenzollernism are on the down grade.

The kaiser's recent appeal for a recognized "people's government" and another appeal which he is now issuing but of which no details have yet been received, are regarded as camouflage to fool the German public and the Entente statesmen.

An interesting thing in connection with this is the report from Amsterdam stating that the majority members of the Reichstag have adopted the following program:

Indorsement of the July (1917) peace resolution; restoration of Belgium; declaration of Germany's readiness to join the league of nations; autonomy for Alsace-Lorraine and equal suffrage for Prussia.

THE LIGHT CONTRACT

tract requires these four lower lights on each pole must be kept burning. This is not the fact. The contract expressly provides that the city council may order the four lower lights on each white way post turned off for one or more hours each night in any given month. The contract also specifies what the reduction in the lighting price shall be if these four lower lights are turned off. If the city council should decide that they did not want to use the four lower lights the saving to the city for the 72 White Way poles would be $2.88 per night, or $86.40 per month, of $1,036.80 per year. If the city council should want these four lower lights turned off one or more hours earlier each night the saving would be substantially $260.00 per year for each hour that the service is shortened.

The contract also provides that the number of lights in use in the residence district may be reduced at any time by the Board of Aldermen, the only limit being that the monthly bill for street lighting shall not fall below $300.00 per month, or $3,600.00 per year. There has not been a time in Maryville in the last twenty years when there have not been enough lights in service to cost as much as $3,600.00. It will therefore, be seen that the contract so protects the city as to allow it to drop back to the lighting conditions of twenty years ago if the Board of Aldermen feel war conditions make it necessary to take that backward step.

A Word About Recipes.

The failure of many war recipes is due to our not following the directions carefully. In our effort to cut down expenses we are apt to eliminate the eggs and milk called for and substitute baking-powder and water. This change, together with the presence of wheat substitutes to which we are largely unaccustomed produces a dish as which does not please the family against the new regulations. Today in matters of cookery we are striving to save for our allies rather than for our purses, and though proper economy is desirable at all times, the practice of it should not interfere with our patriotic saving or with the adequate nourishment of the family.—Oct. Good Housekeeping.

PLEDGED TO LIGHTS

government supervision, that should it become known that the community was so unprogressive as to refuse to pay for an adequate lighting system difficulty would be had in explaining why the Normal should retain the S. A. T. C. unit.

Rev. Gilbert S. Cox pointed out the relation of the churches to civic progress and urged that Maryville go actively to work in doing some of the things that had been neglected for a long time. "Some people are under the impression that during the war it is a patriotic duty to cut down everywhere possible," said Rev. Cox, "when the fact is we should be doing more now than ever. Our boys over there are looking to us to keep things going, and we are not doing our part unless we keep going ahead in civic matters and in our business and religious life."

W. A. Blagg declared that the member who would not work and vote for the adoption of the light contract should be classed with the bunch of tight-wad unprogressives who, a few years ago would not vote a school levy. "This club ought to be a unit in this matter," declared Mr. Blagg. "We hear the people at the churches singing 'Jesus Paid It All' and most of them would like to see the electric light included in the bill, always ready to take a thing if somebody else pays the bill.

A statement by the Rev. C. Emerson Miller that he would speak on the proposition from his pulpit Sunday night in an effort to enlighten his members on the need for carrying the election and the fairness of the contract, brought a round of applause. "I have always made a rule never to speak on any subject with which I am not entirely familiar," said Rev. Miller, "and I have taken the time to go through the contract clause by clause and Mr. Hellmers came to me to explain the figures. I can honestly say I believe that it is a fair and equitable contract and Maryville will do well to approve it.

Announcement will be made tomorrow of such meetings and other details of the campaign in behalf of the adoption of the contract will be announced by President Ellison tomorrow.

FOCH TO SAVE KNOCKOUT LICK UNTIL NEXT YEAR BELIEF

TO WAIT FOR RESERVES

(By Floyd MacGriff, I. N. S. Staff Cor.)

London, Sept. 7.—(By Mail).—Americans and others who hope or expect to see Field Marshal Foch deliver a knockout blow against Germany before 1919 are doomed to disappointment. That is the belief of persons here in close touch with the military situation. Foch's reserves—his strategic reserves which will be thrown in when the great battle can be won and the German hordes crushed—are still insufficient in numbers for that. In other words, not enough Americans have yet been hardened to battle to give Germany the knockout blow this year.

"But Foch has the Germans on the run," the man in the street may say, "so why not keep slamming away and end the war straight off." True, the Germans are on the run, and truer still that the Allies will keep on hammering. But the German forces are only retreating slowly from sectors where Allied pressure becomes too great. The retreat has not become a rout on any wide front. The German higher command is still fully able to direct such retirements as are made with some degree of skill.

Then what is Foch's evident intention? Observers here believe Foch intends to drive the enemy back to a line where he will have less room to manoeuvre, keep the German forces constantly congested and on the defensive in the north, meanwhile preparing the Allied force for the great blow. All the time the German morale will be depressed as that of the Allied forces is increased. Germans fight well only when they are winning.

What is the German plan? At present the German general staff is endeavoring to meet the wastage of manpower. This is possible only by shortening the line. Thus the line has been shifted back toward the Belgian frontier as Allied pressure gets too strong, and the shortened line yields divisions for the reserve force, which Germany now must maintain at all costs. The reserve is necessary to meet sudden Allied offensives. Also, the Germans are holding up the Allied push as best they may, so that they will have time to prepare proper defensive systems in the rear.

With a modern army there are innumerable fixed establishments, such as ammunition dumps, aerodromes, hospitals, provision and supply depots, billets, etc., behind the lines. To move such a conglomeration of material, especially in face of an attack is no small job. And the job is not made easier when every available man is needed to help stem the assault. As much confusion obtains as if a family with a ten-room house were given thirty minutes in which to clear out, with all chattels, to another abode.

Should the Germans eventually retire to the line of the Meuse a saving would be effected of some forty divisions. But the Allied strength would be increased proportionately.

The German plan seems to be to delay any big retirement as long as possible, or at least until winter weather sets in, when Allied operations will be considerably hampered. And with the halt in fighting due to bad weather the Germans would have time to prepare ground far in the rear for such retreats as they believed inevitable.

A retreat to the Meuse would put the Germans practically on their own frontier. That fact in itself would probably instill some fighting spirit into the German line troops, which seem to need some bucking up tonic, according to documents captured from their own commanders.

LABELING HELPS HOUSEWIFE

Food and Drug Act, by Showing Net Weight of Package Makes for Full Measure in Buying.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—The housewife can see at a glance how much food she is to get for her money when it is in package form and labeled in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food and Drugs Act, say the officials of the Bureau of Chemistry charged with the enforcement of that law. The Federal Food and Drugs Act provides that all food in package form, shipped into interstate or foreign commerce, shall bear on the labels a plain and conspicuous statement of the quantity of the contents of the package in terms of weight, measure, or numerical count.

Federal food inspectors are always on the watch for interstate shipments of food in package form to see that the labels tell the truth with respect to the quantity of food in the packages Sample sof the great variety of foods now put up and sold into interstate commerce in package form are taken by the inspectors. Several samples are taken from each shipment in order that their average weight may be determined. The food in sample packages is carefully weighed or measured. If the packages are found to be short in weight or measure, the party responsible for the shipment may be prosecuted under the criminal section of the law.

The Federal Food and Drugs Act does not apply to foods which are sold and consumed within the state where produced or manufactured. It applies to foods that are shipped from one state to another, or to or from a foreign country, or manufactured or sold within the District of Columbia or a territory. Many states have net weight or measure laws, however, whoch protect the housewife from short weight or measure in package foods produced and sold within the state. The Federal food officials and the state food officials co-operate in the work of enforcing the food laws in order that abuses which cannot be reached under one law may be corrected under the other.

The variety and quantity of foods put up and sold in package form has increased rapidly in recent years. Nearly every kind of food may now be bought in can, box, bottle, basket, case, carton, sack, or other form of package. Canned fruits, vegetables, and meats, have long been on the market and can be obtained at all grocery stores. Other foods regularly sold in large quantity in package form are coffees, teas, spices, flavoring extracts, baking powders, sirups, vinegars, jams, jellies, preserves, flour, olive oil, candy, catsup, bakery products, butter, cheese, breakfast foods, fresh fruits and vegetables and beverages.

A FAIR PRICE LIST

NO LOCAL LIST IS GIVEN

Committee Named Some Two Months Ago Has Failed so Far, to Announce for Buyers Here.

In nearly every newspaper in the country the houeswife will find a Fair Price List.

This list shows what fods are most plentiful in the local markets each day and also gives fair prices for them.

These prices are determined by local committees representing wholesale dealers, retailers, and consumers. They aim to give the dealer a fair profit and at the same time to guard the housewife from being exploited.

But these Fair Price Lists are a club without a handle unless the house wife uses them as she should.

To do this, she should clip the Fair Price List as printed in her paper each day and take it to market with her. Then, if she is charged prices in excess of those quoted on the list she should immediately bring this fact to the attention of her dealer. If he refuses to sell at the prices quoted, the housewife should at once report him to her City Food Administrator if there is one or to her County Food Administrator. He will take such action as seems to fit the case.

So much the Fair Price List can do, if rightly handled by the housewife. But there is another side to it. With the Fair Price List there is no excuse for the housewife to wait until the end of the month and her bills begin to come in, and then complain because her grocery account is higher than she thinks it ought to be.

The only time she has a right to object is the day her dealer asks her a higher price for a certain food commodity than the price at which it is listed in the Fair Price List quoted for that day.

She has no right to complain just because her grocery bill is higher than in pre-war time. Food is bound to cost more. Labor is scarce, transportation is difficult. The higher cost of food is part of the war burden that must be cheerfully borne by every housewife.

Let the American housewife who complains over prices in America compare them with those in other countries:

The only time we have a right to complain in America is when we are charged prices in excess of those quoted in the Fair Price List.

A Fair Price committee for Nodaway county was named over two months ago at a meeting of dealers held at the court house, but up to date no list has been given out by them as to relative prices that should obtain for staple foodstuffs.

In Clarinda, Ia., and in other Iowa towns whose papers come to the Democrat-Forum office may be found in nearly every issue a Fair Price List covering a wide range of commodities. The list gives the wholesale and retail prices and shoppers are urged to report overcharges to the food administrator. The last week's list from a Clarinda, Ia., paper gives fair prices on forty-one different articles of food.

Mrs. Peden is one of the best known and highly respected women of that thriving little city, where she has made her home for a number of years.

"When I commenced taking the medicine," she continued, "I only weighed ninety-eight pounds, now I weigh 125 pounds and never felt better in my life. For years I have suffered with a bad form of stomach trouble, constipation and pains in my side and back. At times the pains took the form of torture and I was twice examined and each time I was told that I had appendicitis and that an operation would be my only hope. I had fallen off until I only weighed ninety-eight pounds and was so weak I could hardly get around.

"I had no appetite at all scarcely, and what little I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach, which gave me palpitation of the heart, sick headaches and a dizzy feeling about the head. When the spells came on I would get awfully nervous. I worried about myself until I could rest and sleep but little.

"I had fallen off until I was almost skin and bones and my strength and energy were slowly leaving me. I had a dread of the future and could see nothing but the operating table and the knife. I had a perfect horror of an operation, but I had made up my mind that it was either life or death and prepared to submit to it. I had made all preparations for the operation and called on my sister to tell her good bye, as I did not know whether I would live to see her again or not. My sister begged and plead with me not to allow them to cut on me and told me to wait and try a good tonic for a while. The next day, as I returned from the consultation room I thought of what she said and I had heard so much about Tanlac I decided to try it as a last resort and stopped at Gilbert's Drug store and bought a bottle. Of course I had lost heart and had no faith in the medicine, but to please my sister I made up my mind to take it and oh, what a happy day that was for me!

"I never returned for the operation, but just kept taking the Tanlac. Right from the start I began to feel better. The medicine seemed to take hold right at once. It had a soothing effect and in a few days I had no pain at all. I was so happy over the wonderful improvement in my condition that I sent for my neighbors to tell them how much better I felt. I sent and got another bottle of Tanlac, and have just finished taking my third bottle and feel like I have been made all over again into a new woman.

"As I have said before, I now weigh 125 pounds, and my improvement has been so rapid that none of my clothes are big enough for me. I will have to make them all over again. I now have a ravenous appetite and my husband says I am simply eating him out of house and home. I have even gone back to my coffee which I was told not to touch. Those terrible pains in my back and head heve all disappeared and I sleep like a child. I am no longer nervous and when I get up mornings I feel refreshed, cheerful and bright. I am now able to attend to my household duties and I feel as if I had started life all over again. My husband is highly delighted, and my recovery is the talk of the neighborhood. I do nothing but rejoice all day long over the recovery of my health and praise Tanlac to everybody.

"I feel so grateful for my escape from the operating table and the knife that you may publish what I have said; you may, if you will, tell other women suffering as I was, to come and see me and I will be glad to tell them all about my case."

The Value of Advertising.

Says John Wanamaker: "If there is one business on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely alone, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising, one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—considerable of it. Somebody should tell him also that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditures early in the game. Advertising doesn't jerk, it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year., until it exerts an irresistible power. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge the load! while one-half the power exerted in steady effort will start and keep it moving. There are three ways to make advertising pay, and these are the only ways. There are no others. First is to keep at it; second, is to keep at it; third is to keep at it."
